Helping each other edition

Inside – Helping each other, roads, new bridge, ideas

How we can help each other

These are strange times for us. Because of the Coronavirus we have postponed our Quiz. As we have such a great community, we thought we'd do what we can to provide the mechanism for people to be able to help each other out in our two roads.

If you are unable to get out because of the Coronavirus – or any other reason for that matter – and need some shopping, dog walking etc, please let Anne know. We can put round an appeal to our Quick Contact group.

Similarly, if you are stuck at home and feeling fed up, just let us know and we'll put round an appeal for someone to give you a regular ring or email.

Many thanks to those in our Quick Contact group who have already volunteered. To join our Quick Contact group, just email or phone Anne. We send round emails only when necessary. Those who do not have internet can receive paper copies.

Anne's contact details are: annebridge175@gmail.com 020 8656 6707

Another way to stay in touch with neighbours and offer or ask for help is our new Canning & Clyde Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/CanningandClyde>— select the Canning and Clyde link on the left. Do please take a look and feel free to use it to connect with neighbours. It's a great way to stay in touch.

For those who may be interested there are three other local help groups:

Our MP, Sarah Jones, is compiling a list of volunteers who may be able to help people. You can access this via her website at <http://www.sarah-jones.org/>

Local Council support

Our Councillors are happy for people to contact them and they will respond with appropriate urgency. They do not have no quick route into health advice and support, however. For the latest on Council services, see

Local things to do within walking distance

Keep an eye on the Events page of our Canning & Clyde website for things to do that are within walking distance and don't need to involve being in crowds.

At least the milder weather means it's more enjoyable to get outside. Our site is at www.canni.addiscombe.net

Roaming camera

For years some residents of Clyde Road have been complaining about drivers who ignore the one-way system. More recently some residents of Canning Road have been asking that the no entry into Canning Road be enforced.

Thanks to the support of our Councillors, Croydon Council will at times unspecified be deploying a mobile camera in Clyde, Canning and Addiscombe Court Roads to photograph the minority of drivers who ignore the clearly visible signs.

Possible road changes

We reported in our December newsletter that the Council might have been consulting on possible changes to traffic flows in the local side roads. The Council informed us that owing to some strong local opposition they will not be spending money on a consultation and those potential changes will not be going ahead.

East Croydon Station – bridge from Cherry Orchard Road

Developers, Menta Reddow, have announced that they are going to start the second phase of their Morello Quarter development on Cherry Orchard Road. This will include linking the bridge over the railway platforms to Cherry Orchard Road.

The development will mean 500 new homes of which 118 will be 'affordable'. It will also include commercial and community space.

Free things for children to do over the summer holidays

For the last two years in our summer newsletter we have included ideas of things that children can do for free over the school summer holidays. We will be doing the same again this year.

Please do you have any good ideas? To keep cost down we only include places and activities that are either within walking distance or easy to reach by public transport for the cost of an adult one-day bus and tram ticket (£4.50). Please let Anne know by 1 June if you have any ideas on annebridge175@gmail.com or 020 8656 6707.
